Meet NACA Commodore Chuck Rubin

In past years, I received Cruiser Log in January, and most years I had never met and had no knowledge of the background of the new commodore or where they were coming from. So, I decided to do something about that this year by telling you a bit about my boating background and experience, as well as my plans for NACA (with your help) in the coming year.

I'm Chuck Rubin, staff commodore of New England Cruiser Association (NECA) and have been going through the chairs of NACA for the past few years.

I've been boating for fifty-five years, from the 14-foot plywood kit that I built in my garage one winter, through five upgrades to my current 40-foot Mainship, Big-C. Before I built my first boat, I'd never been on a boat except for car ferries, and that doesn't count.

I was living in New York State when I took my kit boat, along with my wife and two young sons, on several ninety-mile trips from Ithaca to Syracuse, via Cayuga Lake and the Erie Barge Canal. (Wonder why my wife lost interest in boating?)

I've taken several long trips in the past fifteen years, from Boston to New York, up the Hudson River to Albany and the beginning of the Erie Barge Canal, then on to Syracuse. Then across Lake Ontario into Canada and the length of the Rideau Waterway (rivers, lakes, and canals) to Ottawa and on to Montreal. I went on the St. Lawrence River to the Richileau Canal and into Lake Champlain, through the Champlain Canal, back into the Hudson, and on to Boston—1600 miles, 103 locks and six weeks. The trip of a lifetime!

In 1998, I took my boat from Boston to Daytona Beach, Florida, via the ICW (Inland Waterway) from Norfolk, Virginia, to Daytona. I traveled up the Delaware and down the Chesapeake Bays from Cape May, New Jersey, to Norfolk. The trip took three weeks on the water, although we could have

NACA Objectives

The objective of the North American Cruiser Association is to promote the sport of Predicted Log Contests in North America. Pursuant to this objective, NACA will:

1. Publish and distribute a periodic newsletter known as the Cruiser Log, which shall contain news and information pertaining to the sport.
2. Schedule and coordinate an annual "North American Invitational" (NAI) Predicted Log Contest.
3. Sanction contests of member associations that are to be scored for NACA points.
4. Maintain and publish scoring and standings of Predicted Log contestants participating in NACA sanctioned contests.
5. Provide perpetual and suitable keeper trophies and other awards for winners of such North American Predicted Log series and events as may be established by NACA.
6. Establish "Recommended Contest Rules" for NACA sanctioned Predicted Log Contests.
7. Generally be responsive to the needs and requirements of member associations and of the sport of Predicted Log Contests.
8. Support boating and Corinthian yachting in general.

Commodore's Corner

Welcome to NACA for 2008.

I wish you all a happy, healthy, and prosperous new year and trust that your boating will be on smooth waters, with good currents and enjoyable experiences.

I'd especially like to hear that you're taking an active part in predicted log contests in your part of the world. More about that later...

My congratulations to the winners of NAI 2007. I took part, and I want to tell you it was a tough course; everybody had to consider shallow areas and strong winds. Overall, it was a good contest and a great time, due to the sponsorship and efforts of Western Lake Erie Cruiser Association in conjunction with Ottawa River Yacht Club.

I can't express in words the challenge and joy I have received from participating in predicted logging. I believe our sport would be much more popular if more people knew what it's all about. We've got to do a better job letting people know about the challenges and the social repartee that are part and parcel of predicted logging. The fraternizing and griping sessions after the contests are one of the best parts of being a predicted logger.

Now I'd like to talk about some of our goals for 2008 and hope you will make some effort to help attain them.

We need to do more in each of our organizations to introduce more people to predicted logging and get as many newcomers as possible. We need participants with boats, observers, and, yes, guests. We need bodies to join us at every level. Due to lackluster participation, many of our groups are hurting to the point of closing. Older committed members are retiring from boating, and new young blood does not know we exist or what predicted logging is. We need new participants to take up our sport. We need to get the message out.

We recently changed the rules to allow contests to be run with a minimum of four boats, down from five, but it's not enough. We need to do more so we'll have five and more boats running. We're talking about incentives for new members to join, and I'm going to recommend to the bridge and board that we eliminate the first year's membership fee for all new members. It's currently only $10.00, but let's make it free, so there's no risk for someone thinking about joining. It's up to current

NACA Numbers Changed

Several members have been assigned new NACA numbers to replace the four-digit numbers previously assigned.

Please refer to the mailing label on this issue of Cruiser Log for your correct NACA number; it appears on the first line of the label, after your organization name.

made it in two or less, but we were enjoying the trip and were in no hurry.

As you can see, I did a lot of boating in several long trips; other times, my boat sat at the dock going nowhere, until about nine or ten years ago, when one of my good friends introduced me to predicted logging.

After being cajoled into a forced contest entry by the same friend, Lon Compton, and taking second place my first time out, I was hooked and have been ever since. I've been a contestant in two North American Invitationals (NAI's), finishing third and fifth, and was navigator for Carl Johnson, who came in second in NAI 2006.

I served as commodore for NECA for two years, and then started through the chairs in NAI until reaching my present rank.

This has been a long story of someone who was never on a boat until he built his 14-footer to the present, when he becomes commodore of a national organization. I can't express in words the challenge and joy I receive from participating in predicted logging.

I've talked a lot about me, but I wanted you to know who I was and where I was coming from.

members to promote predicted logging at every opportunity and in every venue. We're currently advertising in several boating magazines and will determine if we get any response.

When we do get a new member, it's up to the current members to take them under their wing, show them how to predict a contest, and shepherd them through the intricacies that will help them enjoy the sport. If any of you have ideas or suggestions to help us succeed in our goals, please forward them to me or to anyone on the bridge.

I also propose we join forces with other organizations that run predicted log contests. I'm thinking of the United States Power Squadrons across the nation, as well as many small groups that put on their own predicted log contests.

I have some ideas I'll be promoting but would also like to hear from you about anything I've mentioned in this missive and ways to help generate interest and participation in predicted logging. I would not like to be the one to turn the lights out on NACA.

Thanks for listening to this long diatribe and hope it will do more to keep predicted logging alive.

A great new year to all,

Chuck Rubin

Fire Report

My wife Ellen and I are pleased to report that our home survived the fire in Poway, California, in October 2007.

It was a close call, however, as homes were destroyed or damaged within a few blocks north of us. We had only wind damage, which broke tree branches and limbs around the house, and, of course, ash and pine needles were everywhere. If we didn't have a black bottom pool before, we certainly do now!

The three of us (including our German shepherd Amber) spent three days on our boat at Harbor Island in San Diego. I am now on a first hand basis with cabin fever.

We thank all of you who called and were concerned and hope none of our other friends in the cruiser association suffered from this epic disaster.

See you all on the water in November, once I get the boat washed.

A Fond Farewell

On January 5, 2008, Cruiser Log received the following message addressed to all members and friends of PLRANC:

This afternoon, after a long illness, our dear friend, Haluk Akol, passed over the bar. A kind and great man is lost to us. A great predicted log racer, who won three trophy races this year with our little group, he never lost his touch. Haluk was one who always helped and was always ready to teach new racers. A great family man, he will be missed by all who knew him. Our thoughts are with the family and his wife, Doris.

A memorial service will be held at a time as yet to be determined.

In Shakespeare's time, mattresses were secured on bed frames by ropes.
When you pulled on the ropes,
the mattress tightened,
making the bed firmer to sleep on.

To All Association Scorers

For those of you who do not know, there are some handy scoring forms on our website that may make your reporting a bit easier. If you go to the helm station at <http://www.predictedlog.org/HelmStation.htm>, click on the link labeled, "Association Scorers". Please click there for the scoring form; you will find two versions of the scoring report.

One is a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet that you can download and save as a master form. If you have Excel, you can just fill out the saved master, and then use the "Save As" command and give it any name you like. Then you can e-mail me the file at his@craigandjan.com

The other is a pdf document. You can download it and print copies. Then just fill it in and send it to me by regular mail:

Craig Ryan
2820 Boa Vista Drive
Costa Mesa, CA 92626-3549

In either case, there is more information than just the contestant points required. Here are the important items that I need:

1. Name of the contest.
2. Date of the contest. If two contests are conducted on a single day, I need to know which was first.
3. Your association name.
4. Contest number (07-X) where X is 1 for your first contest of the season, X is 2 for the second contest of the season, and so on.

Any other information you can give regarding the contest is appreciated.

Please send your contest scores as soon after a race as possible. Thanks very much.

Encourage a friend to join the North American Cruiser Association... Today!

Membership in NACA keeps everyone who is interested in Predicted Log Contests well informed about the sport throughout North America. Competitors from thirteen member Associations compete for National Trophies simply by competing in their local contests. The champion from each organization competes in the North American Invitational, hosted by a different organization each year.

Your dues entitle you to receive Cruiser Log (the NACA newsletter), the Annual Yearbook that lists all NACA members and their addresses, along with information about the member organizations, and the NACA Handbook that details the national rules for Predicted Log Contests as well as the perpetual trophies.

To join the North American Cruiser Association or renew your membership, complete this membership form and mail it with your check to:

Get Serious!

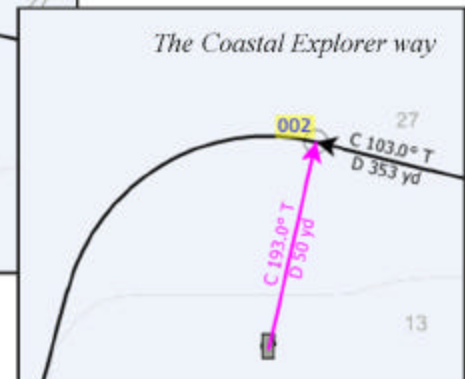

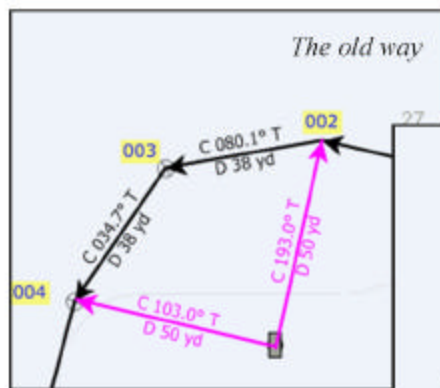

With the only navigation software that includes features designed specifically for Predicted Log Racers

Navigation Software Just Got a Lot Better!

Use Coastal Explorer to help plan your next Predicted Log Race. Our exclusive curved waypoint transition creates more accurate routes and Estimated Time of Arrival because the intended route is depicted and calculated for each route leg as a curve rather than a straight line. Set a port and starboard turning radius for your vessel and Coastal Explorer will do the rest! Copy a planned route directly into MS Excel for further manipulation and fine tuning. These features combined with Coastal Explorer's easy to use, uncluttered user interface make it the ideal choice for your next race and all your cruising needs.
